

Early symptoms of high media pH in Myosotis: Interveinal chlorosis of young leaves

Myosotis is sensitive to iron deficiency which expresses itself as chlorosis in the young leaves. Maintain media pH between 5.5 to 6.0 (similar to Primula acaulis levels) to ensure the media micronutrient availability. A supplemental feed program with iron chelates can be helpful.