

PanAmerican Seed Culture Research

Tequila Portulaca Daylength Sensitivity

Tequila Series Portulaca

Tequila Portulaca, a prostrate type, is less daylength sensitive than Sundial and Margarita Portulaca. PAS research shows that Tequila can be grown under daylength as short as 10 hours 15 minutes without developing a rosette, which is about 15 minutes shorter than Sundial and 45 minutes shorter than Margarita.